Handicap Rules

NET SINGLES MATCH
In a singles matches, the player with the lowest handicap becomes the baseline handicap and plays at scratch, meaning he doesn't get any handicap strokes. The other player gets his handicap strokes by subtracting the other player's handicap from his. For example, your handicap for the course and tee is 15 and your opponent's is a 6.
Subtract 6 from 15; your handicap is 9 and your opponent plays scratch.

NET FOUR-BALL MATCHES
In a four-ball (or better ball of partners) the player with the lowest handicap becomes the baseline handicap and plays at scratch. The remaining players adjust their handicaps by subtracting the best player's handicap from theirs.
Example: Handicaps of 5,10,15,20 would play as 0,5,10,15.

GROSS SINGLES MATCH
No handicap, both players play as scratch.
